CME Studytour 2010 – Barcelona

As the chairman of the study tour I would like to thank first of all the study tour committee for doing an awesome job, it was unbelievable how smooth everything went. Good job guys.

As for the group, you guys were even more awesome, the atmosphere was really great, The murder game (which I won!) The bros icing bros (which I lost..) it made the group become closer, one of the goals of the tour. I hope and think you enjoyed the trip.

I'm also proud of the way we presented ourselves to the companies. The interest from our side shown through our questions was really great. It was great to see they were really proud to have us.

Last but not least I want to thank Fred Hobma, Jules Verlaan and Hennes de Ridder for coming with us, I hope they enjoyed the trip as much as we did.

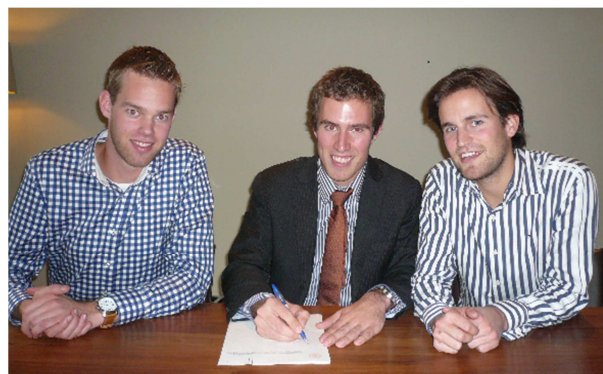

All in all I think we can all agree that the Barcelona tour was much better than London, at least just as good.

Best regards,

Gyasi Johnson

CME Dispuut became an association

The CME Dispuut exists for three years now, but on November 18th the Board of the CME Dispuut signed the articles of association and thereby the CME Dispuut became an official association. This will not largely affect the CME Dispuut, but has some small side effects. One of the effect is a yearly General meeting of members (ALV). During this meeting the Board of the CME Dispuut will present their goals and evaluate the previous goals. You as a member of the CME Dispuut have a voice in defining the future of the CME Dispuut. Of course only when you are attending the ALV!

Another effect is that we need to verify our list of members. Therefore we need you to (partly) fill in a form which you can find here. After filling in the form, please return it to the CME Board by dropping by at our room. Thanks in advance!

CME Dispuut goes multimedia

Probably you have already noticed that the website of the CME Dispuut has had a major transformation. But there are some other new media we have introduced.

Blackboard organization

On Blackboard we developed an organization especially for CME students. On this page you can find extra literature, old exams, forums and summaries of books. Because the CME Dispuut is not making all the summaries itself, we are dependent on students who made a summary and are willing to share it with other students.

So if you have a summary and you want to share it with the rest of your colleagues, please send them to info@cmedispuut.nl. You can find the CME Dispuut organization by going to the Organization tab on Blackboard and search for “CME Dispuut”.

Linkedin group

Since LinkedIn is upcoming, CME Dispuut can not stay behind. And that is why we have a LinkedIn group. In this group you can start a discussion or enter into one. Next to the ‘regular’ group, we have a group special for CME graduates. You can find the CME Dispuut group by searching for “CME Dispuut” in the Groups search box. We hope we can accept your invitation in the upcoming days!

Facebook page

During the study tour to Barcelona a lot of pictures have been made. Eventually we will post them on the CME website, but until then we have created a Facebook page where everybody can upload their picture in order to share them with the rest of the CME students. You can find the CME Dispuut page by searching for “CME Dispuut”.

www.cmedispuut.nl

Probably the most important one is the new CME website. The website is almost finished and the last text has to be made in order to finalize the website. On the website you can find several things, such as: information on the master, upcoming events, recent news, educational aspects, career opportunities, summaries of activities and photo’s. Next to that you can see and visit the website of the sponsors and partners of the CME Dispuut.

It is also possible to register on the site, hereby you can leave a reply. In the future it will be possible to show the rest of the visitors that you will be joining an activity. Make www.cmedispuut.nl one of your bookmarks to stay informed of the CME happenings.

If you have any questions or some interesting comments, please let us know. Also if you do not want to receive this newflash anymore, please contact us; info@cmedispuut.nl
